JUST A FLICK OF THE FINGER and Warren firemen can reach the Central Station or receive directions from the headquarters for further action. Here Gail English (seated) and Dave Main (standing) demonstrate how the equipment is used with one man manipulating the radio and the other recording the incoming messages.

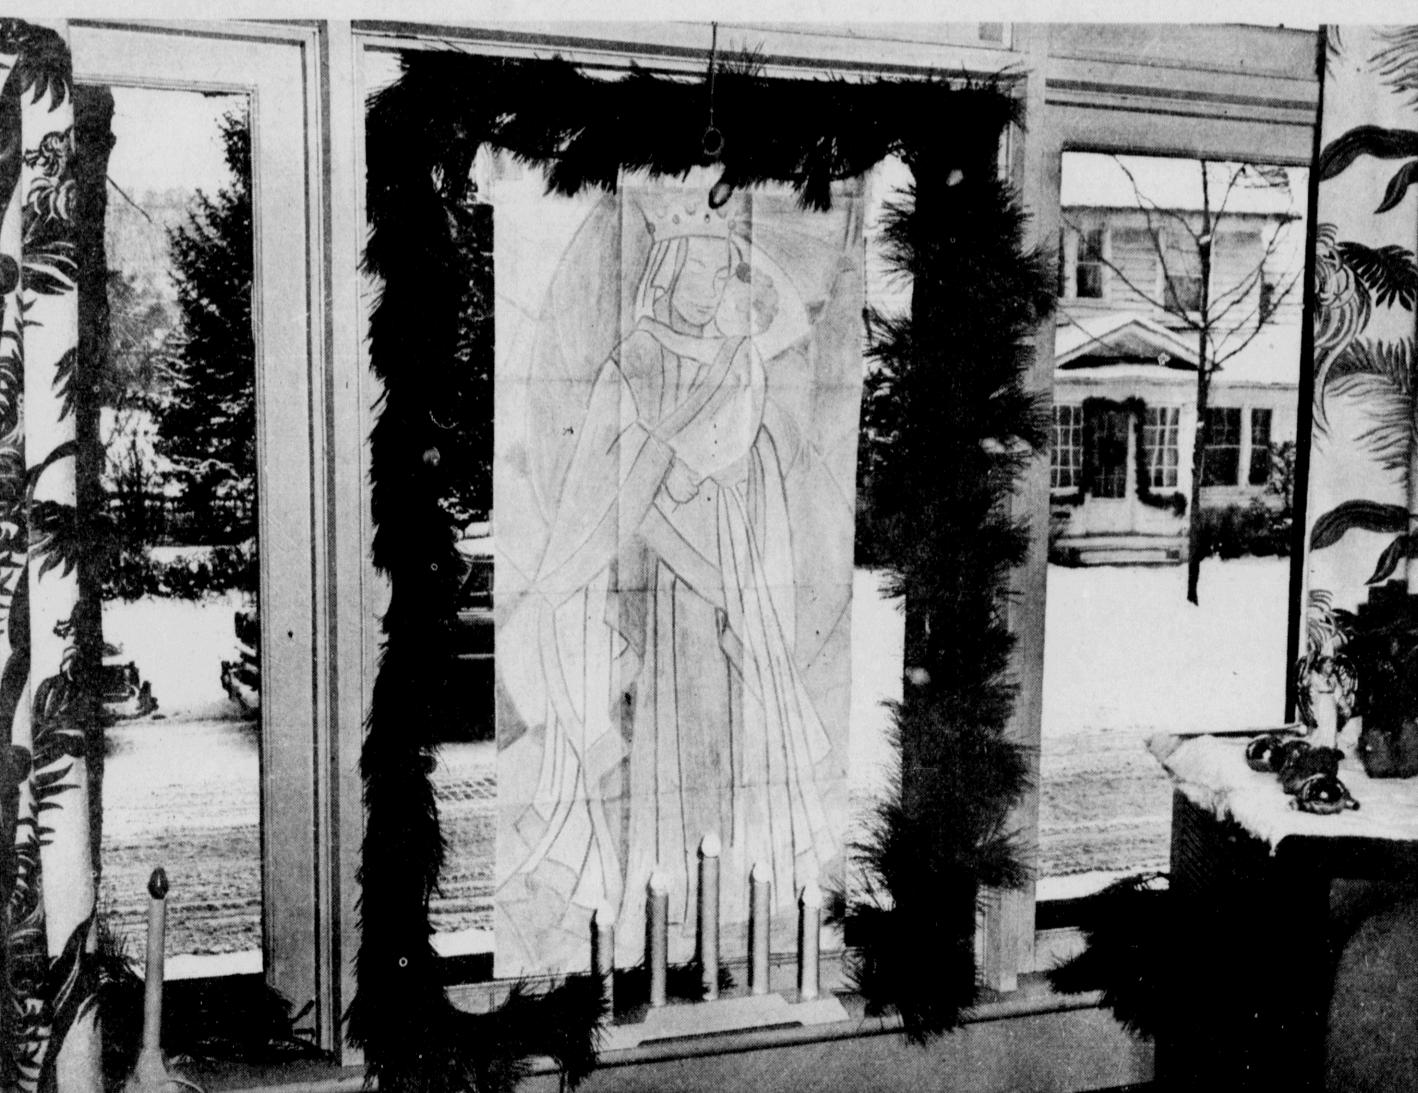

One link remains to make the system of greatest value to the entire County. It is hoped that soon the equipment will include devices which can automatically sound the fire signals in all the County's communities by radio signals from Warren's Central station where twenty-four hour alertness will guarantee quick responses. It will then be possible to have just one fire number to telephone from anywhere in Warren County and the firemen on duty in Warren will sound the local signals. As soon as sleepy-eyed men are aroused from bed to gather at the truck's radio set, specific directions can be forwarded. No matter how great the catastrophe all the efforts of the firemen can be used to best advantage when close contacts can be maintained.

WARREN'S NEW COMMUNICATION SYSTEM for the fire department was revealed last week when Homer Haines demonstrated the advantages to a committee of borough officials. In the attentive group are (left to right): George Geracimos, borough manager; William Rice, burgess; W. Howard Alexander, Floyd Rice, and Creed Erickson, a committee of the Warren Co. Association of Insurance Agents who are working with the council on fire protective measures; and James Tridico, fire chief.

One truck in each of Warren's three stations is equipped with radio facilities as is the chief's car. The central station on Third avenue is the controlling office from which volunteer units in the County are contacted by telephone.

FOR AN INSPIRING sight, take a few minutes to pause at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brooks, corner of Water and Third ave., Warren, where the living room lights reveal the Madonna and Child on their window. The picture was painted by Mrs. Hazel Gordon who resides on Conewango ave., ext.

UP ON RADIO SUMMIT this unit controls the transmitting and receiving of messages. Mary Maier (pictured) is assistant engineer, and when on duty for the local radio station assumes the responsibility for the proper behavior of the fire department's technical equipment. Mary recently received her first class license which is a distinct accomplishment for a member of the "weaker" sex.

Up here where the radio station, the firemen, the sheriff, and soon the Pennsylvania Electric Co. propel voices to distant receivers the view of Warren is wonderful and the broadcasting range is terrific. The messages are carried to and from the Warren Central station for the firemen over special wires of the Bell Telephone Co.

The pictured equipment was purchased through the cooperative efforts of the Warren County Commissioners and the Warren County Civil Defense Council under the auspices of W. C. Fuellhart, director. The modernizing brings complete coordination of all Warren County fire fighters within easy reach.

SPECIAL MENTION must be made of this Nativity Scene as reproduced by one of the women patients at the Warren State Hospital. In a period of approximately three weeks, the figures were completed to the minutest details. The angels, humans and animals are sewed from cloth and stuffed to life-likeness. Jewels in the crowns and fancy bridles for the camels indicate the painstaking care exhibited in the final product.

The artist confessed that the staff of St. Joseph was carefully prepared by an out-of-town friend because she wanted the best that could be made. "You recall that St. Joseph was a carpenter", she reminded us, "And his staff would be his best advertising. It must be the best that he could hew".

GAILY DECORATED walls and windows added to the holiday spirit at the Warren State Hospital. Winter scenes, snow men, St. Nicholas, and the inevitable reindeer aided in boosting the spirits of the population which totals in excess of 3,000 persons. Most of the artistic work was accomplished by the patients with some assistance from the nursing personnel.

CONTROVERSIAL BOOK

About this time every year we attempt to list the leading books, movies, plays, and similar dramatic attractions and mediums of the past year. This takes a bit of doing and seldom is ready for the New Year issue. We hope to prepare it for next week. In this list we do not offer you our preference. Instead we give you the combined list of the leading critics.

On many of the lists will be found a book that has been the center of much discussion, criticism, and unfair attack. We are referring to "Cancer and Common Sense", written by George Crile, Jr., M. D. Life Magazine devoted a big share of one issue to this book, including comments by leading doctors, many of them adverse.

As our editor in Sheffield commented in a recent review, it is necessary to read the entire book, page by page, to do it full justice. And this can be done by even a fairly slow reader in about two hours.

We do not believe it would be fair to discuss the book in this limited space because there is not a brief way of putting it without stressing a point or two with over emphasis. We do believe it will be a reassuring book for you, though it does not lend you rose colored glasses. It is frank enough.

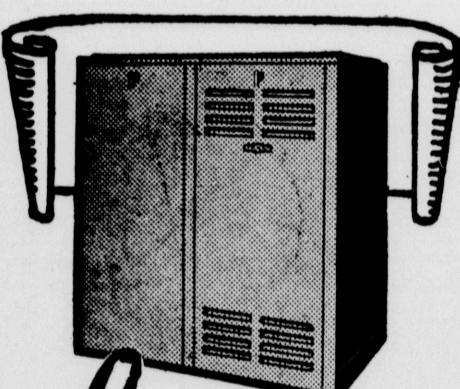

We wonder if all the doctors who have made criticisms of the book have read it. We wonder this because in known cases, doctors who have expressed disapproval of the book, have done so on the basis of hearsay, reviews they have read, or from a quick look. Those we know who have read it from cover to cover have agreed it is really common sense.

average working man or the school-going young viewer. We mention this for two reasons. One is to suggest that if you like good movies and can find other hours for sleep, you may see some top class productions after midnight. The other reason is to suggest that people write the television stations and object to the late hours for the best shows.

EDUCATIONAL ASSISTANCE

If television continues to have such programs as Omnibus, the American public is going to grow in knowledge, whether it likes it or not. An example was the Messiah production on Christmas Day. To completely enjoy such a program, a viewer must have an appreciation of music, and be able to get something from it.

A week or two ago the same program presented a music director who revealed what a director must know, the training he must undergo, what his various hand signals mean, and how he brings forth from an orchestra the wanted effects. He pointed out that a composition is played as the director develops it, and for that reason the same music is heard in many variations, depending on the man with the baton or the expressive hands.

This same director was leading the orchestra for the Messiah program, and those who listened to him on the previous program had a better idea of what he was doing, and much better appreciation of what he had gone through to prepare the music as it was being heard.

Another step in music appreciation resulted for many people throughout the nation, and if only one in each assembled group comprehended in part what the man meant, a step forward was taken. And all who listened, learned more than they realized.

WARNING... SOFT ICE

You can't fall through the ice and get wet on Warren's ice rink, but you can ruin the skating for everyone if you ignore the signs hanging there and walk on the ice when it is soft. It will get that way on warm days, as was the case over Christmas.

The making of ice in this way is a new experiment in some respects for Warren. We have tried it before on a cement surface, and in cold weather have had fair success. The black top differs in that it holds more of the sun's heat and is apt to melt the ice from beneath.

Several things can be done to counteract this and the simplest one now is being tried. That is to pack the snow which falls on the surface for the purpose of creating a cold protective coat. Cold nights then are needed to spray layers of ice on top of the snow. Once this is built up, there is hope that it may be both a constant working base for future spraying and an insulation against the sun's rays.

If this does not work, such material as sand or lime can be tried to counteract the latent heat proclivities of black top. And, of course, the one sure way, is to add a layer of pipes, through which refrigerating liquids are forced. This would require more money, but it would make the ice skating area a permanent playground throughout the winter months.

We understand that this some time is done with plastic pipe, which can be removed when warm weather arrives and tennis comes into favor. Water is poured onto the rink high enough to surround and cover the pipes. The best way, of course, is to imbed the pipes in the paving, but this is very expensive, and that possibility has been lost.

Meanwhile, we must make the most of the weather and the facilities available. Which gets us back to the request, "Keep off the soft ice so that all of us can enjoy the results of colder weather."

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

Year in Review

It's been quite a year, all right. Nineteen fifty-five was television's first billion-dollar year. It was the first year many of the top attractions were in color, though the public remained unmoved or at least were not moved to buy a set. It was the year Como overtook Gleason and Phil Silvers overtook Milton Berle.

This was the year everyone left town. The "Home" show originated in Atlanta, Fort Worth, Catalina Island, Kutztown, Pa., Miami Beach, Boston, Chicago, Milwaukee, Philadelphia and San Francisco. "To-night" came out of Miami, Dayton, Baltimore, Cleveland and Hollywood. Bob Hope sprang up everywhere from Goose Bay to France. To cap it all NBC tried out "Wide Wide World", which jumped around the continent from Havana to Canada, from one ocean to the other, showing what the ordinary folk were up to on an ordinary Sunday. It was all live and much of it was extraordinarily good. It was a great year for travel and there's no sign that it's ending.

In the field of drama, it was a fine year. There were two new weekly dramatic series -- Playrights '56 and Pond's, both of which did some notable things. The first original TV drama to cause a stir was Rod Serling's "Patterns" on Kraft, a study of the rat race in the upper echelons of big business. It was good enough to be repeated and was then sold to the movies.

Among the other originals that caused a buzz of excitement were Paddy Chayevsky's "Catered Affair," Gore Vidal's "Visit to a Small Planet" with a splendid performance by Cyril Ritchard, and Wendell Mayes' "No Riders".

But the big news was not the originals but the adaptations. "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," with almost the same cast that did it on Broadway, notably Lloyd Nolan as Captain Queeg and Barry Sullivan as defense attorney was just great in every department. Maurice Evans and Dennis King later rollicked through Bernard Shaw's half-century-old play, "The Devil's Disciple," with great wit and style.

Two of Thornton Wilder's plays were adapted for TV. "The Skin of Our Teeth" produced some great performances by Helen Hayes, Mary Martin and George Abbott but may have puzzled as many people.

Meanwhile, NBC was forging ahead with its lavish plans and scintillating budgets. In March it presented "Peter Pan" with Mary Martin and Cyril Ritchard straight from a Broadway run. This may easily have been one of the most finished and delightful TV presentations of all time and it was repeated. NBC claims that it may have had the biggest single audience of all time. Another and even riskier venture was Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty" ballet with the famed Sadler's Wells ballet company, starring Margot Fonteyn. This was so esoteric a venture that even the boys at NBC had their fingers crossed. However, it gathered an estimated audience of 30,000,000 people for its beautifully directed color shots, indicating that culture is not necessarily poison at the box office.

as the play did. In "Wonderful Town," Frank Sinatra, who barely bothered to rehearse very much, was a thoroughly disappointing -- as well as spectacularly miscast -- narrator which took much of the zing out of that one.

In the documentary field Edward R. Murrow contributed three fine ones, his interview with J. Robert Oppenheimer and his researches into the Vice Presidency and the state of education; and NBC came up with their fine "Assignment—India" in color. In a smaller way Leonard Bernstein's essay on how to conduct a symphony orchestra, on "Omnibus," was as fine a piece of education as I've ever seen.

INSURANCE WRANGLE GROWS

The Federal Trade Commission has added ten more insurance companies to its list of those which claims have misrepresented the benefits of their policies. At the same time one hearing examiner has ruled that the Commission has no jurisdiction over accident and health insurance advertising when it is adequately regulated by the states. (This is not a final decision.)

The question that pops into the minds of many is how anyone can conclude that such advertising is adequately regulated if forty-one companies can get away with misrepresenting their policies.

The additional companies added to the list are:

Massachusetts Bonding & Insurance Co., 10 Post Office Sq., Boston, Mass.; Lumbermens Mutual Casualty Co., Mutual Insurance Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; American Casualty Co., Reading, Pa.; Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, 1740 Broadway, New York City; Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., 175 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.; National Bankers Life Insurance

Co., 4703 Ross Ave., Dallas, Texas; Minnesota Commercial Men's Association, 2550 Pillsbury Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.; Illinois Traveling Men's Health Association, 332 So. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.; World Insurance Co., World Insurance Building, Omaha, Nebr.; North American Accident Insurance Co., 209 So. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.

PRICE CUTTING NEXT?

We have mentioned here the steps taken by a few major companies to remove controls over the prices obtained for their products and to enter the competitive market with the discounters. We now are told that General Electric is the next one. In 1956 it will make large slashes in the prices of its small accessory line.

If a few major companies like GE start this practice it suggests that the market has been surfeited at the continually climbing price levels and the inevitable has come.

It also is quite possible that politics will play a major part in economics this year. With big business definitely behind the Eisenhower administration and hopeful of keeping the GOP in power, every step possible to hold the production line and at the same time keep all supplied with the good things of life probably will be taken.

You can look for full production, lower prices, or prices made lower through larger trade-in allowances and similar indirect means.

The car industry also is expected to maintain production, even if dealers suffer and bootlegging fully utilized to peddle the crop. The year of the big change may be 1957, when radical changes are anticipated in models and in marketing.

It is reported that some automotive engineers are so discouraged by the reluctance of American manufacturers to utilize the knowledge available to make really fine cars that they are prepared to shift to European areas where at least one new car is expected to result, incorporating their ideas.

To compete with such actions, the American manufacturers can be expected to take revolutionary steps. And the revolution could come in '57.

MORE NEW PLANES

There is not much of a news revelation in the fact that helicopters are being built that can transport forty men. This is being done for the army and the airforce, as you no doubt have seen in various science magazines and departments.

But this same plane soon will be busting into the commercial field and with results that can have a very strong effect on us who reside in mountainous Pennsylvania. In fact, it is built in Pennsylvania, and at least one other Pennsylvania manufacturer is adding a smaller model.

Warren would be in a very favorable position if helicopter service were added to the lines servicing this area. An airport on the mountain-top would have advantages, but the present one is practically in the community, and it would be much more convenient than one several miles out of town.

The big 'copters fly about 150 miles an hour, which seems slow, but when you compare present railroad travel to the advantage of stepping into a plane within your borough limits, and being in New York in a couple of hours, you become aware of the potential.

On top of this we find Cessna, which is battling to get into the family plane level of business, coming out with a small plane that is a helicopter. The safety features of these new 'copters is that a dead motor does not mean you make holes in the landscape. By disengaging the motor, the windmills go into action from the force of the air, and you float down. Simplest thing yet devised in air travel.

Given enough air traffic, the Warren port probably would outgrow itself. Then would come that new port atop a neighboring hill. All is relative. We hope the 'copters start coming in soon to stir up something more than the air.

WASHINGTON. -- Sometimes what goes on around this town just doesn't make sense.

Take, for instance, the projected monster dam for Egypt at Aswan on the Upper Nile. We have signed up with Great Britain to give $70 millions outright to Egypt to begin that project which eventually is to cost $1 1/4 billions. We are supplying $56 millions, Britain $14 millions of this grant. Beyond that there is a contemplated loan of $200 millions from the International Bank to Egypt to help further with her dam. We, as usual, will provide the bulk of that.

We are offering all this to checkmate Russia, that is, to prevent Egypt getting the money from Soviet Russia which volunteered some time ago to help finance the dam. This is just another installment payment in the cold cash contest of the cold war which, it is suspected, future generations one day will look back upon as fantastic.

Egypt is in a position to play the two sides off against each other and so it becomes now a practical matter that we ante up to keep Egypt on our side and keep Russia from getting a foothold in Egypt. That is just good business -- and we can accept it in regular course.

But what puzzles the onlooker about this deal to give away so many millions to another government to build a dam is that the same high officials who do that without second thought absolutely refuse to utilize the resources of our Treasury, to which we all have contributed, to build dams here at home to develop our own country.

Furthermore, nobody has ever even proposed that our government give away the money from our Treasury to build dams here as is being done in the case of Egypt, even though it is our money that would be used for something that would benefit all of us. The great public projects that were created during the last 20 years were financed in a way so that the entire cost will be paid back to the Treasury over a period of years. That's good business.

But, beyond that, there are far greater returns in the form of new business and industry and homes that are attracted into the areas developed by our great multipurpose water projects. These have poured millions in income taxes from agricultural and commercial enterprises into our common treasury.

To learn and see this story all you have to do is to go into these areas and talk with the people. But some of our officials have never taken a real good look at their own country.

Obviously, so far as they are concerned, what is good for Egypt isn't good for Idaho, Washington and Oregon. Those were picked out because this Administration has done everything it can to prevent public development of the single greatest waterpower site left in our country -- Hell's Canyon in the Snake River along the Oregon-Idaho border. The government development originally planned there would utilize the entire potential of the Snake River and coordinate it with the Columbia River system development as planned by our Army engineers.

Secretary of Interior McKay, however, has decreed that this development is to be on a lesser scale by a private company for private profit which means higher rates for homeowners and industry than under public development.

What is good for Egypt is not good, either, for other parts of the Northwest, nor for still underdeveloped watersheds in other parts of the country. For the McKay policy is to bar public development for the benefit of the people to whom the rivers belong and to permit development only if private companies will participate, and they are reluctant, as the Secretary has learned, unless there's a nice profit in it for themselves, which is only natural. Not long ago the Secretary was out begging these private companies to come in, as the nation faces a power shortage.

Where did Egypt get her idea of utilization of the vast water resources of the Upper Nile?

Why from the same place, of course, that France and India and Russia and Palestine and China and the Belgian Congo got their idea for the development of their water resources, namely, the TVA.

We have exported the idea, we have exported funds from our Treasury, we have exported our engineering talent to the far corners of the earth.

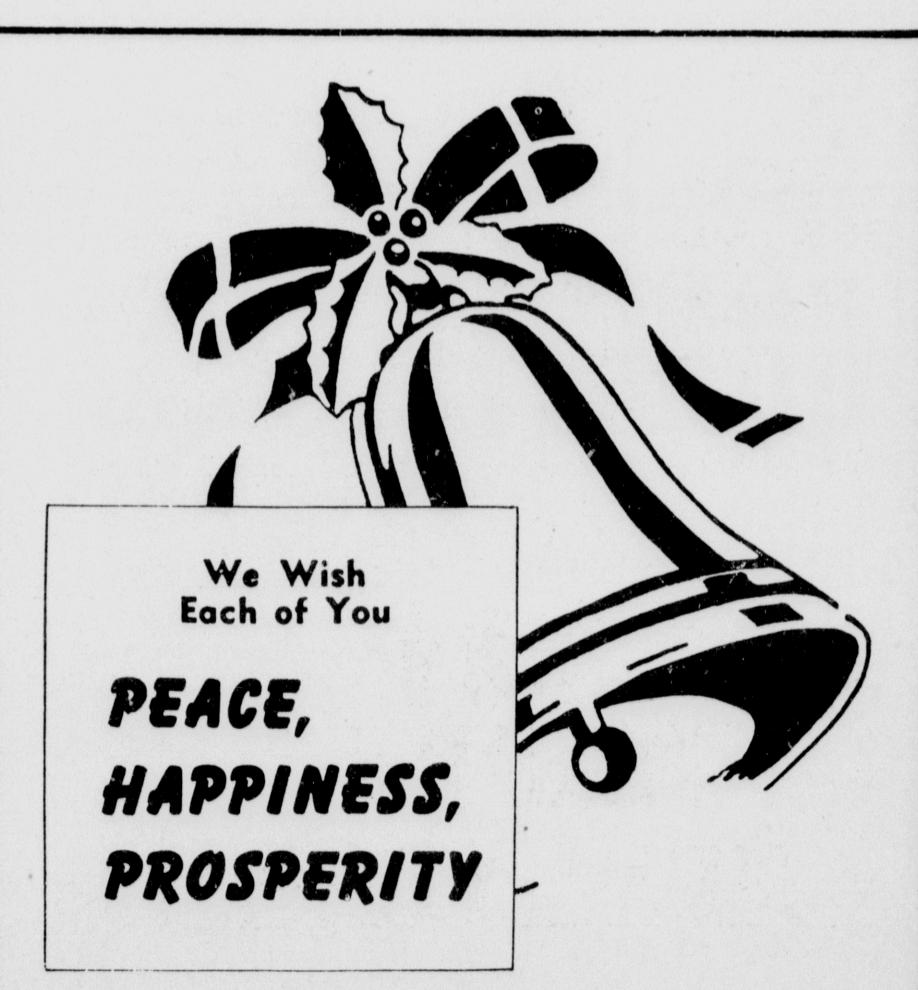

But what is good for them is no longer good for us.

Somehow it doesn't make sense.

WARREN STARS SHINE

A fast moving Warren College All-Star team defeated the Jamestown Collegians in two consecutive contests, 67 to 65, and 76 to 73, in the annual holiday classic last week.

In the initial meeting on the Warren "Y" court Thursday, the locals used a tight zone defense and a well-planned offensive attack to grab an early 20 point advantage at the half-way mark. The Jamestown quintet forged back in the final two stanzas, outscoring Warren by 18

DRAGONS TRIP ALUMNI

In a warm-up contest to the Section II conference opener January 6th, Warren High's Dragon cagers broke up their holiday vacation Tuesday night to trim the 1955 Alumni, 53-37. Warren plays host to Titusville next.

In registering their second win in seven starts, the current issue of Coach Joe Massa put on their best performance in the first half of the contest with 31 points against the returnees' 13. Scoring was almost even in the last two periods, as the varsity dropped into second gear.

Jeff Homan, scoring star of the Dragons, shared scoring honors with Ed Rickerson in the game. Each tallied 10 points, as did Dick Koebley for the Alumni. John Powell, of the varsity, and Gail Schafer, alumnus, were next in the scoring column with eight each.

Last year's team, incidentally, scored only six wins throughout the season.

A glance at the Rockets' record this season shows defeats to Greenville, Millcreek and Cranberry. They can account for a 48-44 win over Grove City.

Y-CITY LEAGUE ACTION

First class competition will be featured on the "Y" court tonight, as YMCA-City League basketball play resumes after a week lay-off over the holiday.

A high-flying Youngsville quintet, with a clean record of three victories, will be battling to maintain the circuit lead, when it faces the Style Shop, 2-1, at 8 o'clock. In the first contest at 7, the Warren Observer (1-2) will be pitted against the winless Rockets. The latter has recorded an 0-3 record to date.

In the season opener the Youngsville team handed the Style Shoppers a 66-61 defeat. The league leaders also have wide-margin victories over the Rockets and Observer, as does the Style Shop.

No league play is scheduled for Monday, January 2, but on January 5 the Rockets clash with Youngsville and the Style Shop and Observer meet.

JUNIORS START PLAY

Jr. Hi-Y cage league action opened last week, when the Browns downed the Bulldogs aggregation by a 41 to 26 margin on the YMCA court. White was top pointmaker for the winning five with 17 points, while Grady paced the Bulldogs with 13 counters.

WHS WRESTLERS WIN

Warren High grapplers claimed all but two matches in defeating Gowanda, N. Y., High wrestlers, 42 to 10, on the losers' mats. It was the second unanimous victory in a row for Coach Homer Barr's boys, after losing a tough one to Oil City.

Dragons pinning their men were Foote, Brian, Condio, Cameron, and Bowen. Olson won by a forfeit and Kondak, Meddock, Brooker and Tinnelli all scored decisions. Pinned by an opponent were Stenberg and Wilbur.

The "always dangerous" Titusville matmen will invade Warren on January 5, for the locals' next match at the Beatty Junior High gymnasium.

ENTER CAGE TOURNEY

Youngsville High floormen open play in the first annual Derrick Scholastic Basketball Tournament tonight at Cranberry High School, near Oil City. Playing in the Class B circuit, the Eagles face Cranberry in the first round.

Other Class B contenders in the tourney are Clarion-Limestone, and Saegerstown. Class A entries are Oil City, Brookville, Franklin and Titusville.

The unbeaten teams in each class will battle it out for the crown on Friday night.

Other county teams have been resting up, but will swing back to the regular schedule after the first of the year. Youngsville High will be home to play Corry on Tuesday and Northern Area Friday night. The Eagles are suffering a 1-4 record. Undefeated Sheffield will shoot for number five when it entertains Marienville Tuesday. Coach Ralph Santo's cagers then travel to Emporium Friday to start Allegheny Mountain League action.

AREA CAGE RESULTS

In other area cage activity . . .

Erie Prep slammed Bradford, 71-55, with Feasler and Kwiatkowski blazing for 30 and 26 points respectively. It was the Ramblers' seventh straight. Erie Strong Vincent up-ended Geneva with three-figure scoring, 100 to 60.

The Erie County Coaches Association's Holiday Basketball Tournament brought the following results: Wattsburg 52, Springfield 50; Edinboro 78, Fort LeBoeuf 35; Lawrence Park 62, Union City 39; Girard 73, North East 39; Fairview 58, McKean 35; and Wesleyville 70, Albion 65.

A CROSS-SECTION VIEW OF 1955 NEWS STORIES AS SEEN THROUGH THE OBSERVER CAMERA

THE BIG CRIME occurred in Tidioute when the county was placed on the news wire by a bank hold-up. A lone bandit walked out with about $11,000. Behind the window is Manager Krug Cyphert who gave up the money at the point of a gun hidden in the bandit's hand by a common grocery bag.

UNDEFEATED AND UNTIED was Warren's football team this fall. The boys rolled over every opponent with ease after a scratchy start against Corry. The county as a whole had a big year. Youngsville was undefeated and tied by Northern Area, which lost only to Southwestern. Sheffield won its league crown and was defeated only by Area and Youngsville.

Don Mohney, Warren back, made the AP all-state team. He is seen scoring against Bradford.

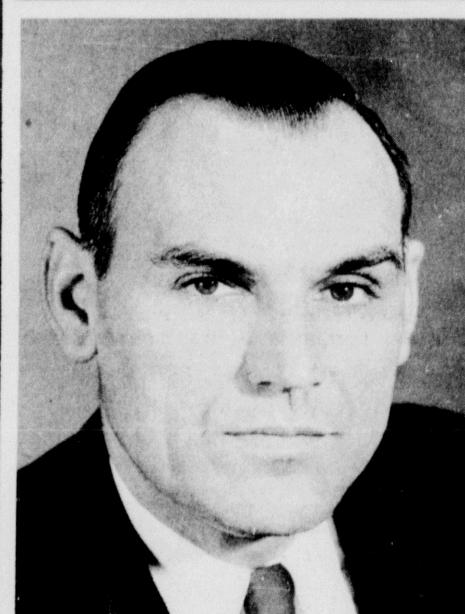

BIG NIGHT . . . The annual party given Warren young people by the Salvation Army was held last evening, with about two hundred attending. Santa Claus was present to distribute a large selection of presents, and refreshments were served. Pictured here is Major Charles W. Schaffer showing a few of the gifts to some of the guests while a roomful of anticipatory youngsters eagerly watch the proceedings.

PARADE INTRODUCED . . . The Warren Chamber of Commerce utilized a Christmas parade to start its shopping season. A large variety of balloon figures were used to fill out the line of march, interspersed with bands and marching groups. Many merchants said it was their best season, on a total dollar basis. Which might mean another parade next year.

POLITICAL UPSET of the year in Warren county was accomplished by Blain Mead. With most politicians claiming they would defeat him, he beat a large field of candidates for a county commissioner post. He led the race with 6218 votes, and a margin of about 400 over the incumbent, L. L. Johnson. Lewis Crippen was the successful Democrat candidate.

Warren Jaycees Accept Celebration For 1956

A FOURTH OF JULY PROJECT for 1956 was approved by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce last night at a membership meeting held in the YMCA.

The organization's decision followed the presentation of a report made by an investigating committee that studied the feasibility of continuing the project this coming year. This group, which recommended the continuance of the celebration, consisted of Jack Lesser, chairman, Gerry Huber, Robert Geiger and Fred Harmon.

In other action taken by the Jaycees last night, it was voted to observe Jaycee Week in January with proper promotion and a social function. It was also decided to conduct the January membership meeting at Old Oakview.

Announcement was made of the visitation to be made here January 6 by National Jaycee President, Hugh McKenna.

Reports were made by the following: Beaty Ice Rink, Don Owens; Music Committee, Robert Geiger; Bosses' Night, Jack Hickey; and Voice of Democracy, Fran Artley.

Chairman Elmer Mellander reported on the Christmas and New Year's Greeting Sign and announced it will be removed on Saturday, January 7.

BOWLING

SEE 300?

If you missed Steve Nagy's 300 on TV last Saturday afternoon, worth a thousand dollars to him for doing it in one of the series of toe-to-toe matches, don't blame this column. We predicted it, and he produced in the second game. In fact, if he hadn't been tapped in the first frame of the third game he would have had seventeen in a row.

We expect the new winner to stay on the alleys for several weeks before he is defeated.

ACTION LIGHT

The holidays lightened the bowling news, but the scores didn't suffer. Chuck Stephens hit 246 and 656 to lead the field and the Industrial league. In the same league, Gene Pring had 233 and 613, Slug Sterling hit 265 and 629, and Dean Whitaker rolled 231 and 601. New Industrial records posted were a 2934 series and a 1044 game by the New York Restaurant.

Chuck's son, Snuffy, kept it in the family by spilling 567 for tops in the Merchants league.

AS FOR THE LADIES

Louise Moorhead led the light-balled sex with a 553 in the Major league. Rose Driscoll hit 204 and 529, and Jaye Pappalardo fell out again with a 203 and 504.

A. Mattison led Peg's league with 461, as this circuit ended its half with the Style Shop on top. The ladies Minor first half winners were the Warren Observer girls with a powerhouse record of 48 victories to 8 losses. Helen Pusateri led this loop with 457. Martha Whiteshot led the Class C with 428.

A CROSS-SECTION VIEW OF 1955 NEWS STORIES AS SEEN THROUGH THE OBSERVER CAMERA

BIGGEST FIRE of the year is seen here through the trees of the Oakland Cemetery. A half million dollars worth of damage resulted to the Seneca section of the United Refinery. A more costly fire occurred at the main plant later when Fire Captain Hartwell Willey was killed in an explosion.

POLIO VACCINE came to Warren county, which was ready with supplies when the word to proceed was received. Here Dr. Buckingham, of Tidioute, gives one of the first inoculations in the county.

OFF TO THE PEN went Norman Moon, principal figure in Warren county's murder case, which started January 13, 1954, when Moon shot and killed Judge Allison D. Wade during a session of court. Here Moon is seen leaving the Warren county jail, hands cuffed to a leather belt, for a trip to the Western Penitentiary where he awaits the outcome of appeals based on claims of insanity.

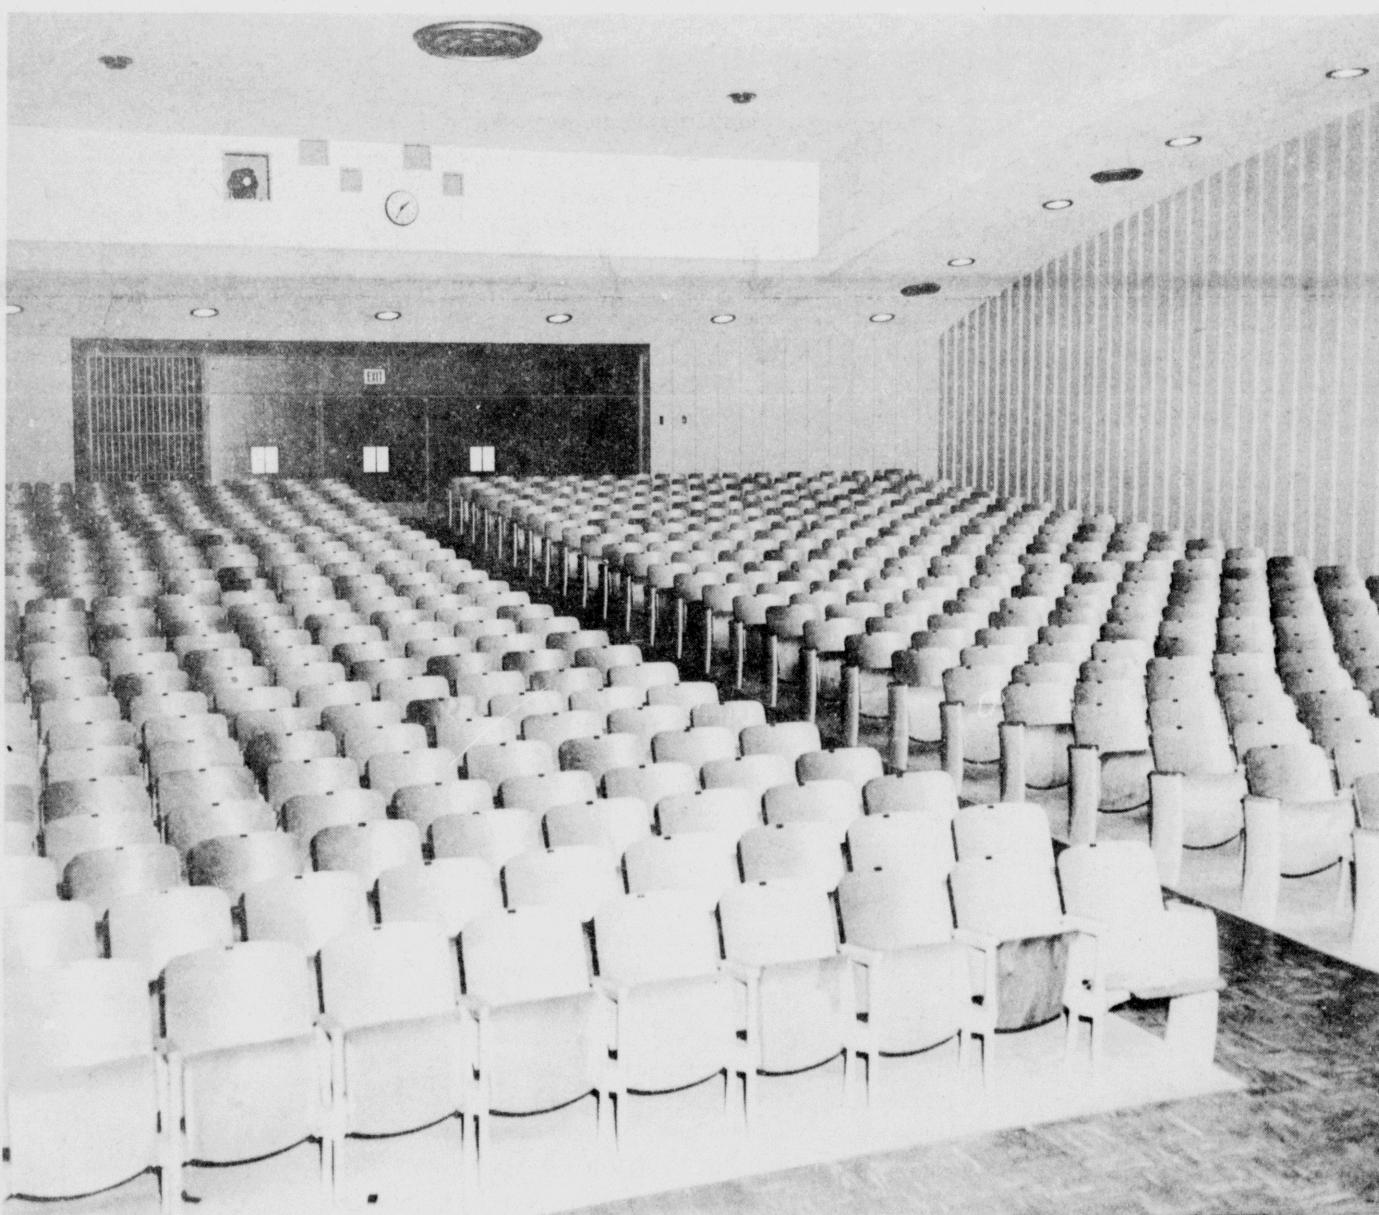

LIKE ALL YEARS it started with a first born, which in 1955 was a miss. Here is Nancy Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Yucha, of Youngsville, who arrived at 7:20 a. m. the first day of the year.

LEADING BOWLER. Most consistent tosser on Warren bowling lanes today is Pete Julianino. He is sporting an average close to 200 in three leagues, and has knocked at the 700 door several times, once as close as 696.

COMING AGAIN is a Fourth of July celebration in Warren, sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. It has been decided to have a 1956 edition. Here we see the queen float in the 1955 parade.

HIGH SCORE for lady bowlers in 1955 was spilled by Sis Highhouse. She knocked off a 621.

SOON TO BE OUTGROWN, but mighty welcome, was the new Beatty auditorium which was formally opened this year. It seats about 750. Many believe the new high school should seat at least twice that number to accommodate a student body that is expected to total 1600 within ten years.

TOO MANY LIVES were lost again in wrecks like this. Warren county was no exception in the continued slaughter on the highways. Three were killed in this car which crashed near Sheffield.

NEWEST RECREATION FACILITY for Warren is the combination ice rink and tennis court area built in the fall by the Jaycees. It already has been used by hundreds of young skaters.

In Brief

SWEARING-IN ceremonies for Warren County candidates elected to office in the general election November 8, will be conducted at the Warren County Court House at 10 a. m. Monday, January 2, by President Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr.

In that all officials qualified to administer the oath of office must participate in Monday's ceremonies, Ralph E. Sires, prothonotary and clerk of courts elect for 1956, will take the oath of office in advance, at 2 p. m. Friday. He will be sworn in by Judge Flick.

On Monday, Mr. Sires will swear in Judge Flick, who was re-elected judge of Warren and Forest counties, and he in turn will administer the oath of the other candidates-elect.

The ceremonies will be closed with a prayer offered by the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, pastor of the Trinity Memorial Church.

Besides those already named, the following will receive the oath: County Commissioners Blain Mead (R), L. L. Johnson (R), and Lewis Crippen (D); Register and Recorder Gurney R. Ball (R); Sheriff L. E. Linder (R); Treasurer Robert L. Ritchie (R); Charles Briggs and Ralph N. Summerton, auditors; and Marjorie Hartnett and Wilma J. Toner, jury commissioners.

Harry R. Chinberg, who was also elected auditor, has resigned that position to serve on the Elk Township school board.

Others taking office tomorrow will be Mrs. Jane Grace, who has been appointed Deputy Register and Recorder, and Mrs. Marion K. Davis, Deputy Prothonotary. Appointments by the Commissioners will be made later.

IN FAIR CONDITION at Warren General Hospital is Patricia Watts, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Watts, of Sheffield. Miss Watts was struck by an auto Christmas night when she stepped from her parent's car at the Sheffield Roller Rink.

The young woman suffered lacerations, burns and a possible skull injury.

The driver of the car which struck Miss Watts, Earl Campbell, of Clarendon, was not held, as witnesses reported he was traveling slowly at the time the incident occurred.

QUARTER SESSIONS COURT will convene on Friday, December 30, in the Warren County Court House.

The court calendar lists eight cases which include five for drunken driving, one on a morals charge, one for non-support, and one for common nuisance.

VOTER REGISTRATIONS have been open since December 8 following the post election monthly shutdown for completing the records. During the first three weeks of the current registration season, nineteen new Democratic listings and five change-overs from Republicans have been listed. Seven new Republicans have registered and one Republican changed to Prohibitionist. The registration privilege will close again shortly before the primary election in the Spring. Changes in party affiliation can be negotiated only during the winter months.

A SKIDDING TRAILER-TRUCK, operated by Charles Laird of Wilkinsport, went out of control in Stoneham at 12:35 a. m., Saturday, December 24, and struck three other cars causing more than a thousand dollars in damages. Charles Lyons, of Clarendon, sustained injuries which resulted in his entry into Erie's Hamot Hospital for specialized treatments. The other cars, both parked at the time of the accident, belonged to John Simko, of Sheffield, and Mike Pesko, of Warren.

TWO IN A MINUTE was the accident record established by Ray mond A. Fitzgerald, of Warren, who was arrested for reckless driving early Saturday morning by Warren borough police. Fitzgerald failed to stop after he struck a car operated by Augustine Lefebre, of Jamestown, at the intersection of Fifth ave. and Market. Sixty seconds later he tangled with James R. Cruickshank's car at the corner of Fifth ave. and Hickory st. The total damages amounted to $450.

SIX ACCIDENTS OCCURRED on December 23 in Warren borough for which the investigating police credited the slippery driving conditions. Richard K. Fowler, of Warren, skidded off the street and into a tree while attempting to pass another vehicle on Third ave. near Water St. Damages totaled $300.

George D. Todd, of Warren, slowed to turn left into Nichols station. His auto was struck in the rear by a car driven by Sydney F. Cummings, of Warren, who skidded before the impact which caused $150 in damages to each vehicle.

Neil Trask, of Youngsville, tried to avoid Joseph T. Madden who backed from his driveway at 814 Pennsylvania ave. W. He clipped Madden's left front fender and continued into Carl J. DeStefano's car which was parked at the curb. Madden received $10 in damages, Trask's damages were $100, and the innocent parked car received a $200 blow.

William O. Nordin, of Warren, tried to stop in the line of traffic (probably Christmas shoppers), started to skid, passed the car immediately in front of him, and struck two cars parked at meters at the curb. Damages totaled $700.

Two Youngsville area cars sideswiped along Pennsylvania ave. W. in Warren. Henry Schlining, traveling west, started to pass a City Lines Bus which was discharging and accepting passengers. Upon noticing an approaching vehicle he tried to stop, skidded, and could not stop in time to avoid the car driven by Esther M. Weaver. Damages totaled $300 to each auto.

Leon Fileger, of Clarendon, skidded 71 ft. in a vain attempt to avoid hitting Ronald E. Kemery, of Warren, who was stopped on Pennsylvania ave. E., awaiting an opportunity to turn left into Park st. Each car's damages were estimated to total $250.

A HEAD-ON COLLISION resulted when Thomas K. Smith, of Warren, started to turn left from Fifth ave. into Liberty st. at 4:15 p. m. Tuesday, December 27. Smith misjudged the speed of an approaching car driven by Walter C. North, also of Warren, and the two met at the intersection. Each car sustained $300 in damages but injuries were avoided.

A VERDICT OF SUICIDE by shooting was issued by Warren County Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, after an Eldred Township man, 54-year old Milton J. Brown, Sr., took his own life Monday.

Mr. Brown lived in the Sanford Corners area, near Grand Valley, and had resided in Warren County all of his life.

The victim, who shot himself in the throat with a 12-gauge shotgun, was found by his son, Earl, Monday afternoon on the floor of his barn. The shotgun used in the tragedy was beside the body, but no note was found.

GOOD BASKETBALL will be seen Friday night on Channel 2, when the New York tournament will be substituted for the fights. If the San Francisco Dons get through to the finals, you will be able to see what may be the best college team on American floors this season.

"Buy" Voted By Library Association In Youngsville

After one and one-half hours of discussion by sixteen members of the Youngsville Public Library Assn. in their meeting last night, those attending voted to buy an existing structure rather than build according to the plans prepared by Edward F. Hanna, Meadville architect. The vote was 8 to 7 with Mrs. R. H. McDowell, president of the Association, abstaining from the balloting.

Immediately following the decision, the question of which building should be purchased was presented. Mrs. R. H. McDowell continued the building investigating committee, composed of Gilbert M. Sanford, chairman, Lyle Johnson, Mark Summerson, and C. E. Anderson.

Sanford, chairman, Lyle Johnson, Mark Summerson, and C. E. Anderson which had been appointed at the December 15 meeting, to re-investigate the proposed structures and any others that the public or board members might suggest. The committee was requested to make its recommendations to the next meeting which was subsequently scheduled for 7:30 p. m., Thursday, January 5, in the Borough Secretary's office. The motion by Lewis Crippen that an "outside appraiser" be employed to determine the values of the various properties was not presented for further action. It was agreed, apparently, that the committee could seek assistance but that its combined judgment would be acceptable.

Those present and penning their secret ballots included Orval B. Borton, Edolph Johnson, Mrs. H. H. Husted, Mrs. C. R. Hooven, Mrs. Thomas Gettings, C. E. Anderson, Warren J. Kay, L. W. Hull, E. B. Day, Mrs. Gilbert M. Sanford, Mrs. L. P. Rogers, Miss Janet Henry, Mrs. George E. Smith, Mark Summerson, and Lewis Crippen.

The total attendance included two-thirds of the Association's members with Gilbert M. Sanford, president of the borough council, in an advisory capacity.

That the question has been very carefully considered by the members of the Association is apparent from the many meetings which have been held during the past few months and particularly during the recent fall and winter. Three times during the month of December meetings have been called because the April 22, 1956 deadline in the Belle Kay will made a decision on "building or buying" very urgent.

An immense amount of publicity has been given the problem with a widely-circulated attempt of the past week to encourage interested citizens to forward their expressions to Mrs. McDowell. The apathy of the public, revealed by only three written communications being received by the president (all three were in favor of building), was regarded by many members of the Association as an indication that the residents were not interested regardless of the decision reached. The three who took time to write were Jesse W. Lyon, Max Davis and Mrs. Max Davis.

As a final attempt to keep the building program alive, Lewis Crippen moved with support from Mrs. Thomas Gettings that the finance committee be allowed until the next meeting of the Youngsville borough council to raise an additional $6,000 for the building fund. If the financial effort were successful it would automatically signal the council our desire to have the bids be re-advertised. If the financial effort fell short it would be considered a decision to reject the proposed building plans. Mrs. McDowell ruled that the motion was out of order as the only issue that could be voted upon at the special meeting was a straight "build" or "buy".

Not before released to the public but presented to the Association at the December 15 meeting was an offer by National Forge & Ordnance Co. through Robert and Duane Wilder to provide a matching fund for the amount required which would be in excess of the present building fund balance. In other words, the neighboring industrial organization

STILL FISHING

If you like your fishing with frost around the edges, the state lets you enjoy your favorite sport through most of the winter. It is permitted in all waters controlled by the Department of Forests and Waters, and includes fishing through the ice.

As usual you must quit at dusk, and the taking of pickerel and yellow perch is limited to December and January. You can use tip-ups for this kind of fish, but are limited to five. Panfish may be taken during daylight hours the year around, either in open water or through the ice.

Wrap yourself up in woolens, fix yourself five tip-ups, stick a good axe in your belt, pack a hot lunch, and have fun.

(Game Commission Release)

SNOWSHOE RABBIT
SEASON NEARS

Snowshoe rabbits (varying hares) will provide Pennsylvania sportsmen their first open hunting season of 1956. The one-week season will begin at 7 a. m. January 2. It will close at 5 p. m. January 7. The daily bag limit is 2; the season limit is 6.

Snowshoe rabbits are scarce in many parts of the state, so the Game Commission limited the upcoming season to one week. Where these animals are presently in fair numbers the supply is about as high as in other recent years.

Destruction of natural habitat caused by maturing forests and overbrowsing by deer have been the principal contributors toward the reduction in the population of this game animal. But the white rabbit provides many sportsmen an unusual type of winter hunting in the northern areas of the state. The snowshoe really "makes tracks" as it circles widely ahead of hounds.

Against snow a hunter must look sharply to detect the nearly all-white animals, but if the ground is bare and dark the snowshoes stand out "like sore thumbs".

DEER DO NOT ALWAYS RUN

Lester E. Sheaffer, an officer from the Game Commission's South-central Division Office, related the following:

Last November 24th Richard Ferrenberg, of Huntingdon R. D. 2, was hunting small game in Oneida Township, Huntingdon County, when suddenly out of nowhere a large eight-point buck charged him. In the attack the hunter was knocked to the ground with such force his gun fell from his hands.

Seeing his master in distress, one of the man's rabbit dogs lunged at the deer. The buck turned upon the dog, injuring it. This action gave Ferrenberg the opportunity to get up and seek cover behind a tree. Before the deer left the scene he charged the tree several times, tearing the bark from the trunk in his attempt to reach the man.

WEATHER HURT N. W.
DEER HUNTING

In northwestern Pennsylvania severe winter weather hampered deer hunters, as Game Protector Raymond M. Sickles, Crawford County, tells in the following: "The first day of the '55 buck deer season was bitter cold but hunters were helped by a light tracking snow. However, on the second and third days a blizzard moved in, and this section was covered by so much snow that hunting was at a complete standstill."

HUNTERS GIVEN CLEAN BILL

Game Protector Ralph E. Flaugh, Mercer county, made the following report.

On November 15 Deputy Jack Reimold and I investigated a complaint that a hunter had shot and killed a 1700-pound steer belonging to a farmer living near Sharpsville. I received permission from the owner to dissect the huge animal. After a partial examination we were convinced the steer had not been shot by anyone.

We thought that because of the great number of bruises on its body, perhaps the animal had been frightened and, in running, had fallen and broken its neck. It had died at the time of a fall thunder and lightning storm. Later, a veterinarian who examined the steer stated the cause of death was lightning.

JUST PRESS A SMALL LEVER and the hospital bed can be raised or lowered to the desired position. Who else could make such wonderful use of such a convenience as Mary Lou Anderegg who has been able to direct so many activities while confined to her bed for the major portion of each day for the past twenty-three years.

The electrically-controlled bed and the table radio, as well as a purse of money, were Christmas gifts of more than two hundred friends from Warren and neighboring towns who have become acquainted with Mary Lou and have appreciated her wide range of useful activities. On Monday, January 2, the Andereggs will hold open house from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. in order that the appreciative recipient may personally thank those who were so thoughtful. Mary Lou can raise the bed to near sitting position for typing and telephone calls and lower it herself for complete rest.

Miss Anderegg's activities are well known to area residents. She is actively engaged in conducting an absentee checking program for the Warren Bethel Evangelical United Brethren Sunday School and is control center for Goodwill Industries pickup in the borough which have been as many as 300 in a month and necessitated approximately 1200 phone calls for arrangements.

In 1945 she spearheaded the organizational movement of the Chandlers Valley Youth for Christ and three years later helped the same

Little did they realize when they read that President Eisenhower enjoyed such luxury during his recent convalescence that the miraculous convenience would soon be in their home at 18 Schantz st., Warren. ASIDES

IMPROVE OR ELIMINATE?

We read reports that the overhead crossing near Youngsville is to be improved so that it will be less dangerous to careless motorists. This contradicts our understanding of the state's intentions. We were given the impression that this dangerous stretch, which ranges from the three-lane to Youngsville, was to be eliminated, including both overheads.

We doubt if the overhead can be made completely safe. Walls can be built that may contain cars that leave the curves, but they also blind the drivers and do not eliminate the possible collision of cars on the S curves. What we need is not a few costly dollars spent on protective walls. We need a new highway.

As long as this section tolerates patch jobs on this stretch of dangerous road, we never will have the complete change that obviously is required. Years of Republican administrations completely ignored this life-taking situation. Now we find a Democrat administration offering sedatives instead of a cure.

We want a new highway from the three-lane straight through to Youngsville. Nothing less! Several routes can be selected that will eliminate those crossings and the many dangerous curves. Simple enough, and far more important than much of the secondary road work that yearly is accomplished.

Another piece of highway that is a disgrace is that linking Warren and Jamestown. The soft berms on the Kiantone road, and the meandering bit of roller-coaster that snakes through to Akeley from the end of the three-lane are a constant threat to the steady stream of traffic that travels between two major cities. We are a bit tired of the dabs of cement and crushed stone used to make us happy. A major paving operation is a couple decades overdue in Warren county.

EXPECT LITTLE HELP

The do-it-yourself idea is spreading to the Internal Revenue Department. You can expect no more than advice from its agents this year when it comes to making out your income tax form. The personnel has been told to advise only and not to do the work. In this way one agent can advise a large number who are busy with their forms. He will answer their questions when difficulties stump the taxpayers but will not take pen in hand.

An even simpler way is to make out the form at home. When you run into a problem, call the local revenue office and get straightened out.

These regulations of course do not apply to those really requiring assistance, such as the physically handicapped, the illiterate, or those who do not understand our language.

BLUE CRUTCH DAY

You can buy protection from polio by taking part in the coming infantile paralysis campaign which starts on the same date as that income tax filing period we were discussing above, January 3, 1956. As a part of this campaign, the VFW will launch the March of Dimes on January 6 and 7 with a VFW Blue Crutch Day, with 700 Pennsylvania posts and 600 ladies auxiliary groups taking part.

A half million Blue Crutch lapel pins have been sent to these posts for use in this campaign. Donors will be rewarded with the small emblems.

WELCOME WINTER

We were glad to see winter officially arrive December 22. Things warmed up immediately.

TRAPPED CARS

A pet peeve of ours is being given greater emphasis these days, due to the use made of Beatty auditorium. When the crowds attracted to Beatty were limited to basketball, and a few special productions in the gym, it was bad enough, but now that we have an auditorium and a parking lot it really is driven home.

We are talking about the roadway leading out of Beatty to Conewango ave. We have seen rows of cars ganged up there on the ice because nothing had been done to provide friction. A sprinkle of cinders would add the needed touch to a long awaited facility.

REVERSE THINKING

With half the world hungry, it is strange thinking that proposes an agricultural program which will pay farmers for not using land. Would it not be better to pay them to use it, and feed the hungry with the surplus?

TALKATIVE ICELANDERS

The talkiest nation in the world is Canada, says a Bell Telephone release. It averages 417 telephone conversations per capita in a year. Next is Iceland, which averages 394. Then comes the United States which averages 393 per person.

The world has 94.5 million telephones, with over half of them in the United States, which has one for every three citizens.

TODDLERS SWEEPSTAKES

Send a picture of your child, if the age does not exceed five years, to the Auto Show, Park Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pa., and you might win $500 for first, $200 for second, or $100 for third, in bonds. It is called the Toddlers Sweepstakes, as a part of the Tri-State Area auto show, which will last from January 21 to 28. The sixteen finalists will be displayed at the show, and the public will decide the winners.

OBSERVERS ON TV

The Observers, as well as how many other newspapers we have no idea, are going to be seen on WHP-TV, of Harrisburg, it says in releases coming to our several offices. The Warren Observer is to be shown there on January 11. The Sheffield Observer is scheduled for January 18. They will be seen on a program telecast daily at 3:45, and known as Meet The People, with Russ Brinkley interviewing.

90 PER CENT OF QUOTA

Warren county has purchased ninety per cent of its savings bond quota for 1955, with one month's report still to come. The goal was $1,345,000. Through November the county had bought $1,215,428 worth.

BUD ON TV

Bud Jeannette, who played with the Warren pro basketball team back in the days when we were represented in the national pro loop, was seen on the Buffalo TV station, Tuesday night, being interviewed by the sports announcer. Bud now is coaching Georgetown University's basketball team. He once was named player of the year in the big pro circuit, and at the same time was coaching Baltimore, which took the crown that season. He married Connie Bidwell, a Warren girl.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

RATE YOUR TOWN

Last week we mentioned that our Tidioute editor in the March of 1954 had used the questionnaire, Rate Your Town, in our Tidioute edition with interesting results. We neglected to mention that in the same month our Sheffield paper also used this questionnaire to help the residents of that community decide if their town was up to the wanted standard.

This reference to past editions has been inspired by the Warren Chamber of Commerce announcement that it is planning to utilize such a questionnaire, through the cooperation of the Warren Times Mirror. It is an effort that can be constructive, or can be too reassuring. It depends on the interpretation.

The idea is supposed to have started in West Virginia where a backward community used the questions with startling results. Since that time it has been tried in many cities, and often very effectively.

The use of the questionnaire was greatly facilitated by the Pathfinder Town Journal magazine, from which releases containing the list of questions were mailed to thousands of papers. Editors picked up the idea and put it to work.

Perhaps you would like to read the original list. We believe it can be improved on a bit, but here is the way it appeared in the news releases of March 1954. You answer each question yourself.

1. Most high school graduates stay in town. Yes No
2. Getting a loan on a sound business venture is easy. Yes No
3. The local paper constantly pushes civic improvements. Yes No
4. There's a Chamber of Commerce with a live-wire manager. Yes No
5. Local speeders pay the same fines as out-of-towners. Yes No
6. There's a place to swim within easy reach. Yes No
7. Young couples have little trouble finding a place to live. Yes No
8. The head of your government is a "get-things-done" man. Yes No
9. Town entrances are free from junk, shacks and billboards. Yes No
10. Teachers' salaries are better than the state average. Yes No
11. There's at least one doctor per 800 people in your county. Yes No
12. There's a library with a good collection of recent books. Yes No

THE OBSERVER

13. Newcomers quickly feel they're part of the town. Yes No

14. Schools have plenty of room for students. Yes No

15. Fire insurance rates are low for your type of town. Yes No

16. Service, veterans' and women's clubs team up on projects. Yes No

17. There is an active, well-organized Boy Scout troop. Yes No

18. A modern hospital is within your trading area. Yes No

19. All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good shape. Yes No

20. Well-stocked stores keep shoppers in the town. Yes No

21. There's a hotel or motel you'd enjoy if you were a visitor. Yes No

22. It's easy to find parking space in the business section. Yes No

23. At least one restaurant serves outstanding meals. Yes No

24. The sewer extension program keeps pace with new housing. Yes No

25. It's easy to get volunteers for any worthwhile project. Yes No

26. Public toilets are provided for farm folk shopping in town. Yes No

27. Prompt, reasonably priced ambulance service is available. Yes No

28. There's an annual Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week. Yes No

29. Good zoning keeps factories away from residential areas. Yes No

30. Streets throughout the community are well lighted. Yes No

31. More than half the church congregations are younger than 40. Yes No

32. Shade trees line nearly all the streets. Yes No

33. There's an ample supply of good drinking water. Yes No

34. There's a recreation center where young people can dance. Yes No

35. The business section has a modern, prosperous look. Yes No

36. There's as much interest in local as national elections. Yes No

37. The tax rate is attractive to new industry. Yes No

38. There's a community council to guide town progress. Yes No

39. There's an active PTA. Yes No

40. Firemen must take regular training courses. Yes No

AND SOME MORE

To this list we would add a few more.

41. Does your city have a sewage disposal system instead of dumping its refuse into an open stream which flows directly through the center of your community? Yes No

42. Does your county have a library service that makes available any book that may be wanted as would be provided by a bookmobile? Yes No

43. Does your community have a tax assessment system that is based on a fair and consistent method of determining value and ability to pay? Yes No

44. Does your town have a public auditorium that will adequately serve all groups and all occasions, and thus encourage the best class of entertainment? Yes No

45. Are the highways into your community adequate for safe transportation and a heavy traffic flow? Yes No

46. Do you have an airport that provides you with commercial plane service and airmail delivery? Yes No

47. Are you making full use of your natural resources to attract leisure time business, and supply

HAVE FAULTY WIRING & CONNECTIONS

A "short" can start a fire any-time! Be sure your fire insurance program isn't faulty. Inadequate coverage can leave you "short" in time of need.

suggest your town is one of which you can be proud.

play facilities for your residents? Yes No

48. Do you provide an adequate pension system and sufficient wages to attract good men to such dangerous jobs as firemen and policemen? Yes No

49. Is your recreational program in operation fifty-two weeks a year instead of a couple of summer months? Yes No

The originators of this idea suggested that you should be able to answer thirty questions in the affirmative for a good community. Because we have added nine, you probably should be able to answer thirty-six for a record that would

Year-End Bowl Games on Channel 4

THIS New Year's week-end holiday will see two of football's classic year-end bowl games being telecast over WBEN-TV. The Auburn University Plainsmen will meet the Gator Bowl Saturday afternoon, Dec. 31, beginning at 2 o'clock. The annual Orange Bowl game will feature two undefeated teams in the Top Eleven—Oklahoma and Maryland — Monday afternoon, Jan. 2, starting at 2 o'clock on Channel 4.

Auburn will be making their third consecutive appearance in the Gator Bowl Game, now in its eleventh year, while Vanderbilt will be playing in the first post-season game in the institution's long history. Both teams are at top strength for the battle in Jacksonville's Gator Bowl.

The Oklahoma Sooners, coached by Bud Wilkinson, has won 27 straight games; while Maryland's Terrapins, directed by Jim Tatum, boasts a record of 14 straight wins. Both teams clashed in Miami's Orange Bowl Game of 1954 with the Sooners defeating Maryland 7-0.

NEW YEAR'S DAY SPECIAL

"Years of Crisis: 1955," for which CBS newsmen are flown to New York from posts around the world to join Edward R. Murrow for a comprehensive report and analysis of the year's major news developments, will be a special WBEN-TV telecast Sunday, Jan. 1, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

Start the New Year ALIVE

In all the rush and excitement of the holiday season — places to go, parties to attend, people to see — it's so very easy to fall into careless driving habits, or to take chances you'd never dream of at any other time.

Just one careless moment, or one unnecessary risk, can bring tragedy to your home, and to other families. Have fun — but drive with full awareness of the laws of the highway, and of good, sound common sense.

Slow down and live

Ike's Heart Attack May Boost Health Funds

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON. -- The Republican Administration which hopes and believes it will go into the campaign next year with a candidate who has had a heart attack, President Eisenhower, has abruptly reversed its field on Federal aid to medical research and education.

For three years Democrats in Congress with some minority Republican support have appreciably raised Administration budget totals in this field. The Administration with Mrs. Hobby, who was then Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare as spokesman, fought hard all the way.

Senator Hill, Democrat, and Senator Bridges, Republican, also managed to get Senate approval of their vice president of the Mutual of Omaha insurance company. He also represents his company to the state legislature.

Other guests at the January 6 luncheon will be Chandler Ketchum, executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Jaycees, and K. Earl Abel, Jr., national director from Pennsylvania.

The luncheon reservations should be made with Chairman Powell at Beatty Junior High School by Tuesday, January 3.

bill to appropriate $90 million over three years for Federal aid to research construction. Mrs. Hobby stymied them in the House however and managed also to stop cold a bill by Hill with four Democratic and two Republican co-sponsors to appropriate $250 million over five years for Federal aid to medical education.

Mrs. Hobby's successor, Marion B. Folsom, has now in effect scooped up all these projects and begun the process of affixing the Administration stamp on them.

He said that he would recommend increases of 25 to 30 percent for the basic research programs. At a later date he promised to take up the matter of aid to construction of research facilities and to medical education.

The Administration dilemma as it approaches 1956 is perhaps best illustrated by the case of Dr. Paul White, the pre-eminent heart specialist who is treating the President.

The Administration appoints national advisory councils, chiefly of medical men, to recommend budget appropriations for the various research activities. Dr. White is executive secretary of the National Heart Advisory Council. Every year he has come to Washington and pleaded for more funds for heart research, a circumstance hitherto attracting only limited attention.

Mrs. Hobby in fact ignored all the Health Advisory Council recommendations with fine impartiality.

But when Dr. White returns next year -- possibly combining with his visit a checkup of his famous White House patient, he is bound to get the full publicity treatment. Comparison with the Administration attitude would be inevitable.

As Senator Hill quickly noted the Administration is not quite out of the woods yet on Dr. White. As spokesman for the Council Dr. White has just asked for a $30 million heart research appropriation for next year as compared to the present $18 million. The increase proposed by Folsom would bring the total, at best, to $23.5 million.

Senator Hill will demand that the Administration accept the Advisory Council's recommendation or fire the Council, that is to say, Dr. White.

Liberal Republican forces within the White House had fought a losing battle against the Budget Bureau and Treasury Secretary Humphrey even before the President was stricken. Their principal spokesman was Nelson Rockefeller, who argued first, that the budget-balancers were shortsighted and wrong; second, that they were politically stupid always to let the Democrats stage winning fights for the improvement of public health.

Mrs. Hobby and the then Budget Director, Joseph Dodge, cooperated with Rep. John Taber, the demon economizer of House appropriations, to frustrate Rockefeller.

Secretary Folsom, who gives an immediate impression of warmth and competence, knows Congress well through his work on Social Security legislation and in the Treasury, where he has been Undersecretary. He starts with a clean slate and will do well at the Capitol. He also seems to have a strong sense of political reality.

READY NOW for renting to groups looking for its facilities is the renovated Sons of Italy. Dan Fillis and his crew of skilled laborers and electricians took off the back part of the stage and built in a modern kitchen. New rest rooms and an enlarged bar have been installed. A dumb-waiter is now available to move items to the third floor of the building located at 416 Pennsylvania ave., W., in Warren.

DOZENS OF COUPLES swayed to the strains of the Knobby Trio at the annual Belle Ball held last week in the YWCA. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the regents before the wide-eyed
